

One Evening in Ebisu...

One evening in Ebisu in the heart of electronically radioactive Tokyo – Derek pondered the latest hybrid computer/phone technology...

“What’s this... another new contraption from the phone company?”

...Letting his eyes drift away from phone-computer hybrid device, he pondered the Eternal Tokyo Question – “How to win the game in the fathomlessly cold and heartless Big City... how...?”

And then it hit him like the proverbial bolt of lightning from an ominously overcast sky....

“That’s it! The key to surviving radiation – is to become radioactive! HaHaHa – HA-HA-HA-HA-HA... HaHaHa-HA-HA-HA” he laughed as people ran in fear... back to the comfort of their florescent-lit offices.

